Band Bio:

The OWCHARUK 5 is five people coming together to make music about life. Work, play, hard times, good times, war, peace. Traditional songs and dances have made their way from the Ukrainian plains and the Cossack camp to find kinship with Latin grooves, Blues soul, Punk Rock energy, improvisation, and modern composition. Music for the people.

The band's signature sound comes from a combination of Michael Owcharuk's idiosyncratic compositions and style, mixed with the collective voice of Jim Knodle, Beth Fleenor, Nate Omdal, and Cody Rahn's unique individual voices. Each is an active, working artist in their own right performing in various genres: jazz, prog-rock, new music, hip-hop, the avant-garde, and pop, among others. These things coalesce when the OWCHARUK 5 performs making a sound that is absolutely unique and able to resonate with many different people.

Formed in 2007, the OWCHARUK 5 has been steadily gaining aplomb and recognition in Seattle, WA. They have been featured at/on: Dimitriou's Jazz Alley, Sounds Outside, Tula's, The Crocodile, Composer' Spotlight presented by Jack Straw Productions, and Sonarchy Radio KEXP 91.3fm.
